

Taekwondo Chungdokwan Great Britain

SAFEGUARDING POLICY

The primary aim of Taekwondo Chungdokwan Great Britain is to develop a friendly association with a high technical standard in all aspects of Taekwondo. It is our policy to ensure the welfare of all those within the association.

Policy

TCGB is a member group of British Taekwondo, and as such, all members of TCGB are bound by the British Taekwondo policy and procedures. As a member of TCGB you must be familiar with and abide by the British Taekwondo Safeguarding Policy.

In addition to the British Taekwondo policy outlining the safeguarding of children and young people, we expect our members to apply the policy to vulnerable adults. Adults could be vulnerable for a number of reasons and it is paramount that we also ensure their welfare of all those who take part in taekwondo.

The most recent version of the British Taekwondo Safeguarding Policy is available on the British Taekwondo website:

Policy and procedures for the safeguarding, welfare and protection of children and young people,

Reporting

In the first instance, please report any incidents to the TCGB Welfare Officer, who will then assist with the reporting the matter to British Taekwondo's Safeguarding Lead Officer.

Role of the TCGB Welfare Officer

- Assist the association to fulfil its responsibilities to safeguard children and vulnerable adults
- Promote adherence of the British Taekwondo Safeguarding Policy by TCGB
- Promote and ensure confidentiality is maintained
- Facilitate DBS applications within TCGB
- Maintain own knowledge of safeguarding issues and keep up to date with good practice
- Liaison with British Taekwondo and other relevant bodies.
- Work with clubs and support members of the association with issues of welfare and reporting
